Digital Gift Cards

zendit's API simplifies the process, eliminating the need for manual inventory and distribution management so you can concentrate on other parts of your business.

By adding the zendit platform to your mobile or web platform, you can conveniently offer gift cards or digital goods to customers, employees, or partners

By partnering with zendit, a gift card management company that offers a dynamic API for gift cards and allows you to use your own brand and catalog, you can easily send digital goods or gift cards to people around the world.

With a constantly expanding global gift card catalog of well-known retailers and over 15,000 products, our platform offers businesses a seamless way to offer your customers a broad range of gift card options, all while reinforcing rewards and incentives programs.
