

Prepaid Utilities

Utilizing the zendit platform, businesses have the opportunity to give your customers the advantage of making bill payments through their website or mobile application.

Our API enables you to offer a streamlined system that allows customers to access, view and pay their bills from one place.

The bill payment API is an incredibly useful tool for businesses and agencies that regularly send out large amounts of payments. Automating this process ensures that orders are placed quickly and reliably, and that payments are delivered to the right recipients without delay, globally.

This covers postpaid telephone bills, electrical bills, fixed telephone bills, gas bills and more. With the option of setting up automatic payments, customers don't have to worry about due dates.
